PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm a Full-Stack Developer who loves turning ideas into fast, polished web and mobile apps, and lately into AI-powered tools and automations that save real time. I work end-to-end with React, Next.js, Node.js, and modern databases, and I bring in AI (agents, RAG, prompt engineering, and workflow automation) to make products genuinely smarter. As a freelancer, I help brands and businesses ship modern websites, mobile apps, and automations that make an impact. I'm also open to full-time roles and opportunities where I can contribute to building innovative products and scalable solutions.
